

Week 1 Quiz

Started: Mar 7 at 1:03pm

Quiz Instructions

Questions are worth 1 pt each (total = 20 pts).

Select one response to each question.

You will have three chances to answer each question correctly, after which the question will be locked.

Question 1 1 pts

Eudaimonia, for Aristotle, is a long-term achievement that involves not merely feeling good, but actually living well.

True

False

Question 2 1 pts

It was Aristotle's view that a good person makes choices that sustain happiness over a whole lifetime.

True

False

Question 3 1 pts

Conflict is an ever-present reality that Christians cannot avoid.

True

False

Question 4 1 pts

The central question of Marshall's book is this: How do we live a good life in the midst of conflict?

True

False

Question 5 1 pts

Conflict is a dimension of createdness, not a result of sin.

True

False

Question 6 1 pts

Conflict in the world is a consequence of the world's fallenness.

True

False

Question 7 1 pts

"To be human is to be in conflict" is normative claim.

True

False

Question 8 1 pts

Studying Christian morals is studying orthodoxy, the right doctrine, the right view on moral issues.

True

False

Question 9 1 pts

A church where no one takes any risks is a church where relationships remain formal and distant.

True

False

Question 10 1 pts

According to Blodgett, trust will die unless we keep a very close eye on the people we are trying trust.

True

False

Question 11 1 pts

People tell ministers precisely those things they feel unsafe telling others.

True

False

Question 12 1 pts

A trust relationship, properly negotiated, never involves a differential of power.

True

False

Question 13 1 pts

Gossip can turn out to be a pretty reliable indicator of relative power within the church community.

True

False

Question 14 1 pts

Blodgett relates the riddle of the Prisoner's Dilemma. She writes that the computer models of the game generated several rules for maximizing one's success in the type of trust dilemma described in the story. Which of the following are included in those rules?

Be nice

Retaliate if necessary

Occasionally forgive

Don't be envious

Question 15 1 pts

The practice of entrusting means giving to someone else something of yours that you hold dear, for them to take care of for a while, or forever.

True

False

Question 16 1 pts

It was Aristotle's view that a good person makes choices that sustain happiness over a whole lifetime.

True

False

Question 17 1 pts

Christian ethics depends on a set of unchanging rules that can be applied to any ethical conundrum we encounter.

True

False

Question 18 1 pts

According to Marshall, "Though we cannot choose whether to be in conflict, we can choose how to respond to it."

True

False

Question 19 1 pts

Conflict is not a condition of Creation, but a consequence of fallenness.

True

False

Question 20 1 pts

A trust relationship is the kind of relationship created when one person hands over to another something of value for its safekeeping.

True

False

No new data to save. Last checked at 1:15pm

Submit Quiz